

Everything held constant except the flood driver identical terrain seeds, 48x48 grid, same solver, 60 training runs per mechanism, 100 epochs, 5 seeds

The readable direction: distributed to point median 84% of skill lost

Only the blue points sit to the right of the red line, so only they can support a transfer claim. The orange points never learned their own task, which is why their retained-skill figures reach four digits without meaning anything.
