

Only the blue points sit to the right of the red line, so only they support a transfer claim. The orange points never learned their own task, which is why their "retained skill" reaches four figures without meaning anything. Crosses mark runs flagged as degenerate by the experiment.